NEWRA opposes Hanover Street occupancy change

By Phil Orlandella

Just three days after the North End/Waterfront Neighborhood Council (NEWNC) supported a legal occupancy change at 471-477 Hanover St., the other community group North End/Waterfront Residents' Association (NEWRA) voted to oppose the same request.

The request to the City of Boston Board of Appeals called for zoning relief to change the legal occupancy at 471-477 Hanover St., to change from a seven residential unit to six residential condominium units.

One unit will be extended into the basement. Exterior wood decks will extend approximately 5½ feet out from the rear of the building on the second, third, and fourth floors and existing separate dormers at the rear roof (Fifth floor) will be combined.

Even with the two different opinions relating to the request, it appears the petitioner will still go before the Board of Appeal for a decision.

"Perry has worked in the field of treating addictions since 2014 working at Saint Elizabeth's Medical Center, Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital and providing therapy and counseling to the North End/Waterfront Health community," Romano added.

Space is limited so reserve a spot by emailing John Romano at jromano45@gmail.com. All children must be accompanied by their parents or grandparents. Deadline to sign up is Monday, March 16, at 6 p.m.

The recent snow tubing activity held at Nashoba Valley attracted many participants.

Sponsored by the Nazzaro Community Center and North End Against Drugs, many families enjoyed the day on the slopes.

"It was a great trip," NEAD

President John Romano said. "Numerous people had a fun trip with family and friends."

MBTA plans additional station shutdowns

By Phil Orlandella

Extensive plans to accelerate infrastructure projects for several subway lines and the commuter rail during calendar year 2020 have been announced by the MBTA.

Plans call for the improvement of service, safety and reliability on a faster timeline.

The T is planning a two-one-month shutdown on the Greenline, the C Branch in July and the E Branch in August.

Reportedly, the 2020,

Infrastructure Acceleration Plan will deliver these projects eight years faster than originally planned, resulting in track replacement, upgraded intersection and station improvements.

A plan to expedite projects 2.2 years ahead of time across the Red, Orange and Green lines according to the MBTA.

Throughout the 10-week shutdown on the Red and Orange lines, the team managed to accelerate improvements and accommodate customers by increasing existing parallel service and providing other replacement service where feasible.

In addition, to the C and E Branch shutdowns, an eleven-month suspension of regular Green Line service between North Station and Lechmere plans will go into effect starting May 1 to accelerate efforts to strengthen the historic Lechmere Viaduct while rebuilding the elevated segments of track the rule East Cambridge.

Plans also called for the realignment of the tracks to the new, relo-

'Congress shall make no law ... abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press.'

BILL OF RIGHTS, Amendment I

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD -- VOTE IN THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

The revelation last week by members of our intelligence agencies to Congress that the Russians once again are, and will be, interfering in our electoral process is an ominous portent for the national election in November.

The recent experience of the mismanaged vote-counting at the Democratic caucuses in Iowa has shown the limits of the technology that we have employed to replace paper ballots and its susceptibility to being bungled and hacked.

Even worse, the extreme form of gerrymandering and voter suppression in the Southern states brings into question whether some in our own country even believe in the democratic process.

Together, these developments should give all of us good reason to be fearful about the future of our republic. That may sound dire and overly-dramatic, but it's a reality that we cannot ignore.

The one thing that had set us apart from every other nation in the world -- the sanctity and fairness of our electoral process -- has been shown to be vulnerable not only to foreign influence, but also to a combination of our own incompetence, our misplaced faith in 21st century technology, and the blatant self-interest of certain political groups.

In an era when cynics are proclaiming that we are sliding into the realm of a banana republic, it therefore is essential that all of us who have the ability to vote must do so.

Early-voting already is underway in Massachusetts for the Presidential Primary election, which will be held this coming Tuesday. There are 15 candidates on the Democratic side of the ballot and four Republicans, as well as Libertarian and Green party candidates.

The only way that we can overcome the forces who are seeking to destroy our democracy is to exercise the one thing -- our right to vote -- that has set us apart from every other nation in the world since our founding.

We urge all of our readers to get out and vote -- doing so never has been more crucial to maintaining our democratic principles.

Nursing Home Care - A National Issue

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

About 1.5 million American seniors now live in nursing homes. Seventy percent (70-percent) of them rely on Medicaid to pay the bill, which means they are low-income or have otherwise spent down their assets.

My mother spent the last few months of her life in a nursing home. My first wife died in a nursing home. My wife's mother spent a lot of time in nursing homes. Today, I have elderly friends in nursing homes who I try to occasionally go and see. It's the same old story. I continue to see a multitude of lonely, forgotten people who have been warehoused in facilities until they breathe their last breath.

Placing my wife in a nursing home was one of the hardest things I've ever done. She was in the final stages of multiple sclerosis and needed 24 hour care which I couldn't physically give. However, looking back emotionally and even physically I don't think I would have been as drained if I had just kept her at home and tried to have cared for her. Nursing Homes are exhausting. You think at the time it's the only answer, but then you are there numerous hours every day trying to make sure your loved one is not being neglected. In today's nursing homes the chances are great they will be neglected because the average nursing home cannot keep enough staff to take care of everyone. One worker told me once she was in charge of taking care of 60 persons every night.

She said that oftentimes there would be people she never saw on her shift.

Nursing home care cost is astronomical. Just a bed, three meals a day and an occasional bath will cost you around $7,500 a month. My mother-in-law needed rehabilitation. Three years ago her cost was over $15,000 a month for four months. My father-in-law shelled out $60,000 of their life savings for rehab. They had worked hard to save that money, but you can't take it with you. However, most people don't intend to work all of their lives so that they can turn their savings over to a nursing home.

Nursing homes are not a relief emotionally or physically and financially they will break you. Most Americans end up paying for their nursing home care via Medicaid. Going on Medicaid is no picnic as it means, in reality, you no longer have any means to pay for your care. Twenty years ago I was the pastor of a church with a small salary and financially we didn't have anything except a house payment. Going to the local county office for health and family services and applying for Medicaid for nursing home care for the care of my invalid dying wife was tough. It was our last resort. We were glad it was available but it was emotionally tough. It's the same office where you go and apply for food stamps.

There are some good nursing homes out there and many, many hardworking, caring nurses. There are some really bad ones out there too and they are all extremely expensive.

All the time we hear about Americans being medically insured. What about long term care insurance for aging Americans? Our nation is getting older. The baby boomers are a large chunk of our population - 75 million! Baby boomers are going to face bankruptcies and mega financial challenges as is this nation with the long term care of our generation.

Our politicians must come up with a long term care plan that does not require the financial ruin of millions of Americans. I know longterm care insurance is available if you are not sick and can afford it. However, somehow we have to add long term care insurance to Medicare. Yes, it will cost us every month to pay for it just like we are paying for part B now. However, it would be for real medical care in the nursing home with real rehabilitation if it is needed; and not just for a bed and three meals a day and an occasional bath. Plus it would spare the elders in this nation from having to file bankruptcy and go into poverty to have a shelter over their heads the last few months or even years of their lives.

Please add this issue to the national discussion.

OPINION BY PHIL ORLANDELLA

ABIDE BY DOG PARK RULES

Two negative things are currently occurring in the Prince Street Dog Park that need to be corrected immediately.

Users are not picking up after their dogs, and dog barking has become a problem for neighbors.

Spring or at least some warmer weather will be coming soon and more traffic is expected at the dog park, so these problems need to stop.

Members need to remind other members that the rules at the park must be abided by.

TWO SUCCESSFUL ROUND BALL PROGRAMS

Two basketball programs were held this season, Nazzaro Center and Saint Leonard's Knights.

Both groups worked hard to provide great basketball programs for the youth of the neighborhood.

Everyone involved did an admirable job putting these round ball programs together.

St. Francis House Flea Market/Bake Sale scheduled

By Phil Orlandella

Friends of Saint Francis House has organized its annual Flea Market/Bake Sale to benefit the homeless shelter.

"After a one-year hiatus, the special event is back so now is the time to start looking in closets, draws and cellars for items to donate to help raise money for the homeless," said John Romano, one of the Friends.

Donations will be accepted starting on Monday, April 13 through Thursday, April 16, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Nazzaro Center, 30 North Bennet St.

The Flea Market/Bake Sale will take place at the Center on Friday, April 17 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, April 18 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

No clothes, TVs, computers or worn-out items will be accepted.

"Another easy way to help is to donate spare change," Romano said, "A small amount adds up more than you think."

"Bring your change to the event or give me a call at 617-570-9749 and arrangements to pick it up will be made," Romano noted.

Friends include: John Romano, Patricia Romano, Mary Romano, Olivia Scimeca and Kathy Carangelo.

Nazzaro Community Center to hold Easter party April 11

By Phil Orlandella

BCYF Nazzaro Community Center will be the site of this year's North End Against Drugs (NEAD) Easter Party on Saturday, April 11, from 10 a.m. to noon.

There will be a lot to do at the party including photos with the Easter Bunny, Easter egg coloring, arts and crafts, face painting and balloon making.

Each child will receive a free Easter Goodie Basket.

"The event is sponsored by Michael "Mickey Fud" Giannasoli in memory of his mother Florence. The event is free to all North End/Waterfront Residents, BCYF Nazzaro Center Members, NEAA players and all their families," NEAA President John Romano said.

of Appeal to change the legal occupancy at 27 Sheafe St. was supported by NEWRA.

Plans call for the rental property to increase from five residential units to eight residential units. This was the second time the request was before NEWRA.

Back on June 14, 2018, NEWRA voted to support the request, but the Board of Appeal voted to deny it without prejudice.

The appeal has been resubmitted to Zoning Board of Appeal (ZBA) with one change: The utility room access has been moved to a separate entrance of Sheafe Street to the interior of the building.

North End Attorney Daniel Toscano represented both petitioners.

Boston City Counselor Anniessa Essaibi George and Katie Forte of the City of Boston Neighborhood Development were guest speakers.

The next NEWRA public monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, March 12, at 7 p.m. at the Nazzaro Community Center, 30 North Bennet Street.

2020 Summer in the City

Boston Explorers helps kids explore their interests, and their city

By Seth Daniel

When Alphonse Litz was growing up in Syracuse, there wasn't a historic site or a walking trail that his working class family didn't visit and learn about. It was a way for them to experience their surroundings, and occupy their time on a fixed budget.

But, he said, it was so enriching for him growing up, that he was surprised after many years of being a Boston Public School teacher that many kids in his classes and under his guidance had never seen Boston's rich historic trails or experienced its lush amenities. It was with that in mind – and some disappointment as an educator existing in the standardized testing era – that he set out to found a program to let kids explore their interests and the historic city they live in.

That's when he founded Boston Explorers – a summer and school vacation program that has grown from 11 kids in the basement of a South End Church in 2011 to more than 275 kids in three two-week camp sessions (plus February and April School Vacation weeks).

"I was going into a third grade classroom carrying a large stack of MCAS tests into the room, and one of the third graders said, 'There's the man that brings the tests,'" said Litz, a long-time resident of the South End and former public school teacher in Mission Hill. "I was devastated. I had been about radical changes in education and focusing on kids learning, and then that came out. I went home and told my partner Bob about it and it had been the most depressing day I'd ever had. That's when I started to launch Boston Explorers. It wasn't a question of if, but when. I had the luxury of being able to go out and start the camp in 2011. We started with 11 kids in the church basement and we explored the entire city."

In addition to visiting places like the USS Constitution, historic homes like the Nichols House or Otis House, the Public Gardens, rowing on Boston Harbor and figuring out how to travel on the MBTA – the camp also features a time of reflection for kids where they can choose to do things they like, but in a non-electronic environment.

That could mean building something in the wood shop, playing Foosball or bumper pool, jumping rope, building with Legos or quietly reading. The four goals of every day, Litz said, are to explore Boston, have fun, be kind to everyone and make things with their hands.

"We try to do those things every single day," he said. "I want to get kids back to working with their hands, learning like I did from my father, who was a carpenter. I want to share that. Kids don't miss the phones. Some of the feedback I've gotten is that even the older kids don't mind leaving the phone behind because they can really just be a kid again...So much play is scripted by adults like in sports or ballet or music lessons. This is a place kids can go to have full choice over what they want to do. They are guided by adults, but kids have room to choose and learn."

That's where it becomes what Litz and Assistant Director Sakura Tomizawa call a throwback kind of summer camp.

"This is the kind of camp your grandmother would recognize," said Litz. "The kids value the freedom...It's a child-centered program really all about play and exploration. We have turned down grants because we don't want to do education. It's about play, exploring and learning through that. Kids love it and we keep on exploring."

Boston Explorers is a camp that brings kids front and center with the historic sites in the City that often elude those who live here, and it also allows kids to explore their own interests in a non-electronic environment. The camp has grown from 11 to 275 per year since 2011.

Boston Explorers is tailored to kids age 6-14 in a mixed-age camp that features numerous staff members and older teen trainees. Campers are well-supervised on the trips through Boston, and many of those supervisors are former campers too.

Over time, Boston Explorers has moved its base camp from Union United Church in the South End to the Rafael Hernandez

School in Jamaica Plain. From there, they start and end their days, but have excursions that include visiting historic homes, or leveraging partners like Emerson College to get a behind the scenes tour of the Majestic Theatre.

It's literally like a buffet of activities – going so far as to include African drumming with the Hyde Square Task Force partner from Jamaica Plain.

Ironically, many of the kids in the camp have never been on the Freedom Trail or contemplated the statues in the Public Garden. For a lot of kids in Boston, those things can seem like parts of the city that are only for tourists – not for children growing up here.

At Boston Explorers, Litz said, the City is in their hands.

2020 Summer in the City

Hill House Summer Camp

By Marianne Salza

Hill House Summer Camp is an opportunity for children to be kids in a fun and safe environment. From skipping through the Alford Spray Deck, playing games on Teddy Ebersol's Red Sox Fields, and creating art at the Mount Vernon Street Firehouse, campers will have an action-filled summer from June 15 through the end of August. Hill House is encouraging families to register soon, as almost all of the weekly sessions are 80 percent full.

"Kids love our summer camp because it is a place for them to hang out with their friends," said Lauren Hoops-Schmiege, Executive Director. "Many of our kids go to different schools. Hill House tries to keep that neighborhood feeling. Kids can hang out with their next door neighbors and be outside."

Day Campers, ages 5 to 12, enjoy arts and crafts at the Firehouse, and playing field games on the Esplanade. Children attend educational and fun field trips to the New England Aquarium, The Arnold Arboretum, space centers, farms, Canobie Lake Park, and Sky Zone. Several days a week, campers swim at The Clubs at Charles River Park, where they are staffed by American Red Cross-certified lifeguards, as well as Hill House staff; and nearly every day, they frolic through the Esplanade's spray deck.

"The spray deck is a great asset because on a hot day in the city, there is nothing better," Schmiege explained.

Kiddie Campers, ages three to five, explore a variety of art mediums and outdoor athletics on the Esplanade and Boston Common to build confidence and friendships. The New England Aquarium will visit with touch tanks, and farmers introduce children to animals at the Firehouse, where little ones can enjoy puppet and magic shows.

"We try to make a comfortable and safe place for them to explore and build social skills," explained

Hoops-Schmiege. "We have a lot of sensory activities."

When children graduate from Day Camp, they can participate in the Leaders in Training (LIT) program, for teenagers, 13-15-year-olds who wish to continue at Hill House, but with a new dimension: being a mentor. This is the third year that Hill House has offered LIT for children to explore beyond their comfort zones, build their strengths, and self-reflect. They learn conflict resolution, how to play with children and have first aid training.

"There aren't a lot of opportunities for 13-15-year-olds. This program challenges them and builds their critical thinking skills," said Hoops-Schmiege. "This is a way that they can explore what their own capabilities are. It's learning by doing and being around their peers."

Teenagers gradually transition from campers to counselors as they take part in leadership workshops, in addition to planning and assisting camp activities. The LITs also participate in community service projects throughout the three-week program.

"The most successful Leaders in Training are those willing to be vulnerable and learn about themselves," described Hoops-Schmiege, who spent many summers at an overnight summer camp where her mother served as a director.

Schmiege describes camp as being her first love. From age three-24, Hoops-Schmiege has been a camper, advancing to a counselor-in-training, to a counselor, and then administrative staff member. She was also the former director of a summer camp in the woods of Rhode Island.

"I am passionate about summer camp because you have the room to physically and mentally explore and become a full person," explained Hoops-Schmiege. "Camp helps you be a kid, develop interests, and gives you freedom of expression."
